

Culturally relevant

A prevention program, message, or strategy development that is meaningful to the identified population.