

Hearing Voices:

The Simulation Training Experience of Hearing Voices

This training was created by Patricia Deegan, Ph.D., who strongly recommends that if you have ever heard voices that are distressing to you, you should NOT participate in this training simulation.

Purpose: The goal of this course is to enlighten clinicians who work with individuals who experience auditory hallucinations. This is a highly interactive, practical, practice-oriented workshop that assists in developing empathy.

Training Highlights:

- Increase knowledge and empathy for individuals that experience auditory hallucinations.
- Develop practical intervention skills to effectively interact with individuals that hear voices.

Presented by:

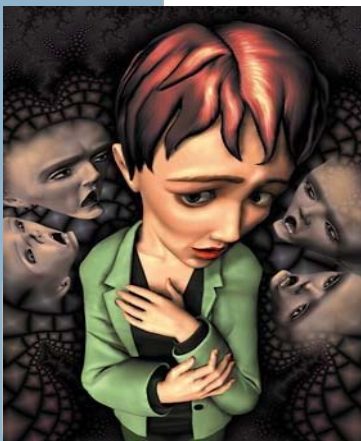

Magellan Health Services of Arizona

The training will take place at:

Arizona State Lab

Dome Conference Room

250 N 17th Ave Phoenix, Arizona 85007

Tuesday, March 30th 2010

9:00am-12:00pm

Contact: Tracy Young

To register for the class:

YOUNGT@azdhs.gov

Space is limited to 25 participants -
Sign up today!