In Arizona Hepatitis is generally treated by MD's known as Gastroenterologist who specialize in Gastroenterology, the treatment of disease of the "gut"

We can not recommend an MD or Clinic for you to seek treatment from. We can refer you to find MD's in your area.

You can click the below link which will take you to the Arizona Medical Board, go to the specialty area - enter your location information and under specialty select Gastroenterology click Specialty Search –it will come back with names and phone numbers for MD'S practicing in your area.

Note! Not all of the listed MD's are accepting patients, not all of them take all types of insurance. You will need to call EACH office to get specific information.
