

Violence Prevention and Education

FEBRUARY

National Teen Dating Violence Awareness Month

Teen Dating Violence is controlling, abusive and aggressive behavior in a romantic relationship. The relationship may consist of two minors or a minor and an adult partner. Similar to adult relationship violence, the abuse may include hitting, yelling, threatening, name calling, and other forms of emotional, verbal, physical and sexual abuse.

February 4-8th

February is the month of Love

We wish you Healthy Relationships this Valentine's Day and everyday!

Relationships should be about trust, love and support, not about control. We hope that your Valentine supports your dreams and goals and listens respectfully to you. If you have a teen at home or know one, share this information and help them have a safe and loving Valentine's Day!
