Poisoning among Arizona Residents, 2012

Poisoning was the leading cause of injury-related mortality among Arizona residents in 2012; among injury deaths of all manners, 1,097 (24 percent) were attributable to poisoning.

The 7,154 non-fatal inpatient hospitalizations cost a total of $120 million and resulting in a total of 12,817 days spent hospitalized; the 11,999 non-fatal emergency department visits totaled $57.2 million, 49% of which was paid by Medicare, Medicaid, or AHCCCS.

Produced by the Arizona Department of Health Services, Office of Injury Prevention March, 2014