An agency's justification and reason why a rule should be made, amended, repealed or renumbered, to include an explanation about the rulemaking:

Pursuant to the rulemaking moratorium established by Executive Order 2019-01, the Arizona Department of Health Services ("Department") received an exception approval to promulgate new rules at Title 9, A.A.C. 16, Article 8 for certification of community health workers established by Laws 2018, Chapter 300. The Department plans to promulgate rules in accordance with A.R.S. Title 41, Chapter 6, Article 3. The new rules are necessary for the proper administration of the community health workers certification program and include requirements and standards that:

- Prescribe eligibility, scope of practice, and the core competencies of certified community health workers;
- Describe and define reasonable and necessary minimum qualifications for certified community health workers;
- Establish standards and requirements for the establishment of certified community health worker’s education and training programs;
- Adopt standards and requirements for the approval or acceptance of continuing education courses and programs for the renewal of a certificate;
- Establish minimum education, training, experience and other qualifications that a certified community health worker must possess to qualify as a trainer in any education, training or continuing education program for certified community health workers;
- Establish the criteria for granting, denying, suspending, and revoking a certificate; and
- Establish and collect nonrefundable fees for certification as a community health worker.
The Department cites A.R.S. §§ 36-765.02, 36-765.03, 36-765.05 as specific authority for the Department to establish voluntary certification of community health workers and to establish rules that regulate administration and enforcement, including authority to deny, suspend or revoke a certification permanently or for a fixed period of time. The Department plans to promulgate rules in 9 A.A.C. 16, Article 8 through a regular rulemaking according to A.R.S. Title 41, Chapter 6.

6. A reference to any study relevant to the rule that the agency reviewed and proposes either to rely on or not to rely on in its evaluation of or justification for the rule, where the public may obtain or review each study, all data underlying each study, and any analysis of each study and other supporting material:

The Department did not review or rely on any study for this rulemaking.

7. A showing of good cause why the rulemaking is necessary to promote a statewide interest if the rulemaking will diminish a previous grant of authority of a political subdivision of this state:

Not applicable.

8. The preliminary summary of the economic, small business, and consumer impact:

As stated in the 2022 Economic, Small Business, and Consumer Impact Statement, annual costs and benefits associated with the 9 A.A.C. 16, Article 8 rulemaking are designated as minimal when more than $0 and less than $1,000, moderate when between $1,000 and $10,000, and substantial when $10,000 or greater. A cost or benefit is indicated as significant when meaningful or important and not readily subject to quantification. No new full-time employees are required due to this rulemaking. The Department identifies affected persons as the Department, health care facilities, health care providers, applicants seeking certification as a community health worker (CHW), and Arizona residents and communities where community health services are provided by certified CHWs. The Department anticipates that it will incur a moderate cost for promulgating new rules, as well as, cost related to the allocation of administrative staff to review and process applications for applicants who wish to obtain a CHW certification and for certified CHWs who wish to maintain their CHW certificate. Additionally, the Department anticipates it will most likely receive a significant benefit for having rules that increase the delivery of community health services to Arizona residents and communities. The Department plans to apply fees collected for initial applications, a one-time fee, to costs related to developing a CHWs database.

The Department expects health care facilities and health care providers will most likely not incur costs related to the rules for the certification of CHWs and rather will receive a significant benefit.
for having access to individuals who have been certified by the Department and whose education, work experience, and completed services hours have been verified by the Department. Health care facilities and health care providers may also benefit from having more individuals available who choose to work in communities other than just their own communities and who increase the types of community health services that they may provided to individuals whom may not have ease access to medical care. Additionally, an increase in cost to health care facilities and health care providers could occur should health care facilities and health care providers increase hourly wages for employees who obtain a CHW certificate or provide funding to employees who request reimbursement of fees paid for CHWs certificate applications. The Department expects applicants wishing to be a certified CHW or a certified CHW seeking renewal will incur a minimal cost for paying an initial application fee of $100 and/or a certificate fee of $200. The Department clarifies the initial application fee is a one-time fee and the certificate fee covers a two-year certification period thus making the average annual fee for a certificate (renewal) is $100. These fees are consistent with A.R.S. §§ 36-765.051 and 36-19082. The Department anticipates that applicants and certified CHWs will most likely receive a significant benefit for having rules that provide a credential that may increase income and opportunities when seeking employment as a CHW or looking to provide volunteer services. The Department expects the general public will not incur cost related to the rulemaking that provides certified individual who may provide community health services to residents in their community. However, the general public that have certified CHWs providing health services in their communities may receive a significant benefit by receiving necessary health services that their residents may not have received otherwise, and potentially, a residents only access to care. The Department has determined that the benefits outweigh potential costs associated with this rulemaking.

There are no other matters prescribed by statutes applicable specifically to the Department or this specific rulemaking.

a. Whether the rule requires a permit, whether a general permit is used and if not, the reasons why a general permit is not used:

A.R.S. § 36-765.01 requires the Department to issue a community health worker certificate to persons who meets the qualifications prescribe in statutes and in rules adopted by the Department. Additionally, A.R.S. § 36-765.03 provides the Department authority to deny, revoke, or suspend an applicant or community health worker’s certification. For this reason, the Department does not use a general permit. The Department believes that under A.R.S. § 41-1037(A)(2) and (3) that a general permit is not applicable.

b. Whether a federal law is applicable to the subject of the rule, whether the rule is more stringent than federal law and if so, citation to the statutory authority to exceed the requirements of federal law:

   There are no federal rules applicable to the subject of the rule.

c. Whether a person submitted an analysis to the agency that compares the rule’s impact of the competitiveness of business in this state to the impact on business in other states:
